Constitutional Secularism in an Age of Religious Revival Susanna Mancini, Michel Rosenfeld, 2014-01-30 The global movement of culture and religion has brought about a serious challenge to traditional constitutional secularism. This challenge comes in the form of a political and institutional struggle against secular constitutionalism and a two-pronged assault on the very legitimacy and viability of the concept. On the one hand constitutional secularism has been attacked as inherently hostile rather than neutral toward religion and on the other hand constitutional secularism has been criticized as inevitably favouring one religion or set of religions over others. The contributors to this book come from a variety of different disciplines including law, anthropology, history, philosophy and political theory. They provide accounts of and explanations for present predicaments, critiques of contemporary institutional political and cultural arrangements, justifications and practices, and suggestions with a view to overcoming or circumventing several of the seemingly intractable or insurmountable current controversies and deadlocks. The book is separated into five parts. Part I provides theoretical perspectives on the present day conflicts between secularism and religion. Part II focuses on the relationship between religion, secularism and the public sphere. Part III examines the nexus between religion, secularism and women's equality. Part IV concentrates on religious perspectives on constraints on and accommodations of religion within the precincts of the liberal state. Finally, Part V zeroes in on conflicts between religion and secularism in specific contexts, namely education and freedom of speech.

Secularisation & Europe Jan M.F. van Reeth, Bernard Pottier, Henryk Ślawiński, Filip De Ryck, 2017-02-03 In 2015 vond aan het Sint Janscentrum een wetenschappelijk colloquium plaats met internationale sprekers naar aanleiding van de verjaardag van de val van de Berlijnse Muur. De teksten van de lezingen die gehouden werden tijdens dit colloquium zijn nu verzameld in de bundel Secularisation Europe een uitgave van uitgeverij Betsaida in samenwerking met de wetenschappelijke uitgeverij van de Pauselijke Universiteit Johannes Paulus II in Krakau. Society of Singularities Andreas Reckwitz, 2020-04-21 Our contemporary societies place more and more emphasis on the singular and the unique. The industrial societies of the early 20th century produced standardized products, cities, subjects and organizations which tended to look the same. But in our late modern societies we value the exceptional, unique objects, experiences, places, individuals, events and communities which are beyond the ordinary and which claim a certain authenticity. Industrial society's logic of the general has been replaced by late modernity's logic of the particular. In this major new book, Andreas Reckwitz examines the causes, structures and consequences of the society of singularities in which we now live. The transformation from industrial to cultural capitalism, the rise of digital technologies and their culture machine and the emergence of an educated urban new middle class form a powerful engine for the singularization of the social. In late modernity what is singular is valorized and stirs the emotions while what is general has to remain in the background and this has profound social consequences The society of singularities systematically produces devaluation and inequality winner takes all markets job polarization the neglect of rural regions and the alienation of the traditional middle class The emergence of populism and the rise of aggressive forms of nationalism which emphasize the cultural authenticity of one's own people thus turn out to be the other side of singularization This prize winning book offers a new perspective on how modern societies have changed in recent decades and it will be of great value to anyone interested in the forces that are shaping our world today

Religions in Movement Robert Hefner, John Hutchinson, Sara Mels, Christiane Timmerman, 2013-10-23 There has long been a debate about implications of globalization for the survival of the world of sovereign nation states and the role of nationalism as both an agent of and a response to globalization In contrast until recently there has been much less debate about the fate of religion Globalization has been viewed as part of the rationalization process which has already relegated religion to the dustbin of history just as it threatens the nation as the world moves toward a cosmopolitan ethics and politics The chapters in this book however make the case for the salience and resilience of religion often in conjunction with nationalism in the contemporary world in several ways This book highlights the diverse ways in which religions first and foremost make use of the traditional power and communication channels available to them like strategies of conversion the preservation of traditional value systems and the intertwining of religious and political power Nevertheless challenged by a more culturally and religiously diversified societies and by the growth of new religious sects contemporary religions are also forced to let go of these well known strategies of preservation and formulate new ways of establishing their position in local contexts This collection of essays by established and emerging scholars brings together theory driven and empirically based research and case studies about the global and bottom up strategies of religions and religious traditions in Europe and beyond to rethink their positions in their local communities and in the world

Family, Religion and Law Prakash Shah, Marie-Claire Foblets, 2016-04-15 This collection discusses how official legal systems do and should respond to the reality of a plurality of family types and origins within their jurisdictions It further examines the challenges that arise for practitioners including lawyers and judges when faced with such plurality Focussing on empirical research the volume presents legal and sociological data of unprecedented comparative depth It also includes a discussion of how members of minority families respond to the need to organise their legal relationships and to resolve their disputes in the shadow of official legal systems which differ from those of their familial and communal traditions The work invites reflection and demonstrates the urgency and complexity of the questions regarding the search for justice in the field of family life in Europe today
