

FRAUD EXAMINATION REPORT

TO: Client
Sample

FROM: Brian Erbis
Certified Fraud Examiner and Private Investigator

RE: Andrew Robertson

DATE: December 10, 2023

---

I. Background/Introduction

A routine internal firm audit of accounting records conducted in October 2018 revealed expenditure improprieties related to both the expense account of former employee Andrew Robertson and related filed corresponding invoices. A cursory examination of Robertson's company-issued Bank of America Purchasing Card revealed charges for purely personal items such as groceries, clothing and home furnishings. An examination of corresponding company invoices filed by Robertson revealed the expenditures were attributed as company-related by being listed as office supplies or catering expense. See United States of America v. Andrew Robertson, 1:19-mj-00266-DAR, ECF No. 1, (DDC).

Considering these initial findings, a fraud examination team was assembled, and a fraud examination was conducted which included review of relevant company records and documents.

II. Executive Summary

The fraud examination commenced upon discovery of the accounting discrepancies during the October 2018 audit. Various steps were taken as part of the examination starting from the inception of Mr. Robertson's tenure with the firm. Robertson was employed as office operations manager for both the Washington, D.C. and Northern Virginia offices from February 2017 through November 2018. See United States of America v. Andrew Robertson, 1:19-mj-00266-DAR, ECF No. 1, (DDC). His activity in his time with the firm was investigated which consisted of the examination of charges made to his company-issued purchasing card, previously filed invoices, reviews of purchasing guidelines, and interviews of key firm personnel.

Example Fraud Investigation Report:

Fraud Investigation Reports in Practice Petter Gottschalk,2022-10-19 Investigation reports are written by fraud examiners after completion of internal reviews in client organizations when there was suspicion of financial wrongdoing Fraud examiners are expected to answer questions regarding what happened when it happened how it happened and why This book presents a number of case studies of investigation reports by fraud examiners offering a framework for studying the report as well as insights into convenience of fraud The case studies including KPMG and PwC focus on two important subjects First convenience themes are identified for each case Themes derive from the theory of convenience where fraud is a result of financial motives organizational opportunities and personal willingness for deviant behaviors Second review maturity is identified for each case Review maturity derives from a stages of growth model where the investigation is assigned a level of maturity based on explicit criteria The book provides useful insights towards approaching fraud examinations to enable better understanding of the rational explanations for corporate fraud The book is framed from the perspective of private policing which contextualizes how investigation reports are examined This book is a valuable resource for scholars and upper level students researching and studying auditing and investigation work in the corporate and public sectors Business and management as well as criminal justice scholars and students will learn from the case studies how to frame a white collar crime incident by application of convenience theory and how to evaluate a completed internal investigation by fraud examiners

Personal Information: Key Federal Privacy Laws Do Not Require the Information Resellers to Safeguard All Sensitive Data , The Privatization of Fraud Investigation Petter Gottschalk,2019-09-19 This book discusses privatization of law enforcement in relation to suspected corporate crime and recommends guidelines for successful fraud examinations There is a growing business for global auditing and local law firms to conduct internal investigations at client organizations when there is suspicion of white collar misconduct and crime This book reflects on the work by these private fraud examiners in terms of an evaluation of their investigation reports The book brings an original theoretical and methodological approach to investigations of white collar crime It develops the theory of convenience as an explanation for motive opportunity and willingness to commit and conceal white collar crime This theory is then related to the case studies Structured in such a way as to allow the reader to use the text as a nonsequential reference source or guide to a set of connected issues the book illustrates the practice of privatization by cases and presents guidelines for successful fraud examination As an investigation can lead to conviction and incarceration this privatization of crime investigation feeds into the larger issue of privatization of policing The work will be a valuable resource for students academics and practitioners working in the areas of Criminal Justice Corporate Law and Business Fraud Investigations in Litigation and Dispute Resolution Services Ronald L. Durkin,1997 Corporate Responses to Financial Crime Petter Gottschalk,2020-08-17 This brief extends studies on how corporations respond to scandals by examining the evolution of the accounts that corporate agents develop after a scandal becomes public Guided by the theory of accounts and a recently developed perspective on crisis management its examines how the accounts developed by thirteen corporations caught up in highly publicized scandals changed from the time of initial exposure to the issuance of an investigative report This brief continues the discussion of the broader managerial and social implications of the analysis of accounts and analyses their effect on our understanding of the ability of corporations to weather serious scandals It includes four case studies from Switzerland Moldova Denmark and Norway respectively

Fraud Examination Joseph T. Wells,1992-03-23 Fraud examination is a specialized methodology for resolving allegations of wrongdoing The author states that traditional auditing techniques are insufficient for uncovering fraud in business and government and offers an alternative approach Fraud examination consists of specialized knowledge from four fields accounting and auditing investigation law and criminology Each of these fields are covered in detail as they relate to fraud and white collar crime thereby increasing the knowledge necessary to fight the ever increasing fraud problem The professional interested in uncovering or documenting fraud must not only know how to discover it in the books and records He or she must know how to recognize fraud symptoms how to obtain evidence take statements and write reports to testify to findings and to assist in the prevention and detection of fraud According to most authorities fraud in business and government is at an all time high The responsibilities of the auditor and accountant to detect and deter fraud and white collar crime are increasing and yet they catch few frauds before devastating losses occur In the view of Joseph T Wells this is because accountants and auditors wrongfully assume fraud can be detected and prevented through traditional audit techniques Instead the author suggests that auditors accountants and loss prevention professionals must find a new approach Fraud examination is defined as the skills necessary to resolve allegations of fraud from inception to disposition to obtain evidence take statements and write reports to testify to findings and to assist in the detection and prevention of fraud Fraud examination consists of specialized knowledge from four fields accounting and auditing investigation law and criminology The book begins with a section on criminology which explains the various theories of why some persons commit crimes and others do not A special emphasis is given to the theories of the white collar offender The next section law gives the reader a broad knowledge of the courts how they operate and the various procedures for proving fraud matters It also details the various criminal and civil statutes by which fraud offenders are punished The third section auditing provides the reader with specific techniques to examine books and records for fraudulent activity Net worth analysis a methodology for proving ill gotten gains is explored in detail The final section investigation provides techniques on how best to obtain information through interview methods It also covers confidential sources of information as well as writing reports in fraud related cases This book is specifically designed for the person who not only wants to know about fraud but what to do with it in the event it is suspected    Final Report Santa Cruz County (Calif.).
