The teaching strategies have been field tested with at risk children in both rural and urban teaching settings. Most of the strategies have resulted from work the authors did in their recent four year federally funded model demonstration grant in which they have implemented an extensive reading problem prevention model in grades K-3 in three inner city schools. It offers significantly revised coverage of assessment, motivation, approaches to integrating different kinds of texts and multimedia resources, and adolescent literacy. New chapters address working with English language learners and supporting teachers professional development. Also featured is a new concluding commentary by Michael Pressley.

Treatment Efficacy for Stuttering Anne K. Cordes, Roger J. Ingham, 1998. Chapters in the first section review five areas of inquiry: spontaneous recovery, definition and measurement, genetics, speech motor control, and stuttering theory while seeking treatment implications of that knowledge. The second section focuses more directly on the evaluation of treatment options and treatment outcomes and addresses both direct and indirect treatments for children and adults. The 12 contributions are based on papers presented at a State of the Art Conference held at the University of Georgia March 1997.
