By: Daniel Max-Onakpoya

A wise man once said, "If We allow Slaves, we act against the very Principles by which we associated together, which was to relieve the distressed." This quote is by James Oglethorpe, one of the twenty-one trustees, who established the colony of Georgia. The quote applies to his saying "not for self, but for others" by addressing the tactics of hard-work and determination. He and the rest of the trustees, saw that there had been many hardships and misfortunes in England. James' close friend, Robert Castell, had even died due to the disasters. At this moment, they decided that a colony had to have been made to help solve these issues. In a charter, they wrote reasons why, the ruler at the time, King George II, should let them institute this colony. Later, funding was provided by parliament and the charter was issued in June 1732. This occurred during Georgia's Trustee Period (1732-1752). The document was called the Charter of 1732, it outlined the reasons for establishing the settlement. These reasons were philanthropy, defense, and economics. Eventually, the colony was established through prosperity and difficulties. This were essential attributes in forming the colony of Georgia. But was Georgia really a success? Was it a failure? The colony of Georgia was a success and failure, due to the significant defense, horrendous economical structure, and the underactive philanthropy. Overall, the colony of Georgia was established exceptionally well, but there were some aspects that didn't work out.

Philanthropy, also known as charity, was a huge aspect in the establishment of Georgia. Philanthropy is the desire to promote the welfare of others, expressed especially by a generous donation. Initially, this was an important reasons form establishing Georgia, but later it wasn't enforced. In England, if you couldn't pay your taxes, you were put in prison until you did. These people were poor and the colony of Georgia was a new start for them. Instead of taking these unemployed people, they took people with enhanced and unique skill sets to build the colony. This caused less unemployed people to go to Georgia, which lowered the success rate of this aspect. In Document A, it lists the occupations of the colonist aboard the Ann, such as a surgeon, silk maker, and merchant. As you can see, the occupations listed were great high paying jobs. Due to this, the unemployed were either left behind or lived worse lives in the colonies. According to Document D, "They might not only gain a comfortable subsistence for themselves and families, but also strengthen our colonies and increase the trade, navigation and wealth of these our realms." This shows that they confronted the issues and attempted to solve it, but couldn't. Instead of focusing on others, they began to be selfish and soon colonist began to complain. Philanthropy was meant to be a heavy part of the reasons for establishment, but it was a failure due to the underactive trustees and colonists. This may have not been successful, but on the other hand, the defense aspect thrived and improved.
