Throughout his working life Mueller kept up an enormous correspondence. Large numbers of letters by or to him have been located scattered throughout the world and edited for publication. These constitute a major new research tool for both Australian historians and historians of science. They are also of fundamental importance to Australian taxonomic botany for Mueller introduced vast numbers of Australian plants to western science. This first of three volumes of Mueller's selected correspondence covers his early life in Germany prior to his migration to Australia, his years in South Australia and his first years as Government Botanist of Victoria. This was the period during which Mueller undertook his major exploring expeditions in the southeast of the continent and in northern Australia and also took on the development of Melbourne's famed Botanic Garden. The volume includes family and other letters from Mueller's youth and later correspondence both official and private, documenting his formation as a scientist, his building of links with scientists in other parts of the world, his activities as an explorer and his role in the establishment of new scientific and cultural institutions in Australia during the hectic gold rush years.
