Step it Down Bessie Jones, Bess Lomax Hawes, 1987 Gathers traditional baby games clapping plays jumps and skips singing plays ring plays dances outdoor games songs and stories Field Recordings of Black Singers and Musicians, 2018-07-10 Traditional African musical forms have long been accepted as fundamental to the emergence of blues and jazz Yet there has been little effort at compiling recorded evidence to document their development This discography brings together hundreds of recordings that trace in detail the evolution of the African American musical experience from early wax cylinder recordings made in West Africa to voodoo rituals from the Caribbean Basin to the songs of former slaves in the American South

Lisa Murphy on Play Lisa Murphy, 2016-05-16 Discover why playing is school readiness with this updated guide Timely research and new stories highlight how play is vital to the social physical cognitive and spiritual development of children Learn the seven meaningful experiences we should provide children with every day and why they are so important

The Nine O'Clock Whistle Willa Cofield, Cynthia Samuelson, Mildred Sexton, 2025-02-20 Between the years of 1963 and 1965 civil rights protests rocked rural communities like Enfield a small North Carolina town where segregationist and white supremacist attitudes prevailed Whites in Enfield enforced a variety of racist norms and employed a range of racist practices including the sounding of a siren on Saturday nights meant to order Black residents to leave the downtown streets at nine o'clock On August 28 1963 hundreds of people including Willa Cofield an English teacher in the Black segregated high school and two of her students Cynthia Samuelson and Mildred Sexton protested these conditions as masses of Black people ignored the whistle After firemen used high powered water hoses to drive people off the streets the Black community continued to resist by organizing a successful three month boycott of the white owned downtown stores The movement quickly spread into the surrounding county morphing into a voter registration campaign a school integration effort and a legal battle over author Willa Cofield's First Amendment rights after she was fired from her position as a public school teacher The Nine O Clock Whistle covers a range of historically and contextually significant stories including details from Cofield's grandfather's early life as an enslaved person and her family's rise to prominence in the Enfield Black community to the roles the authors played in the local protest movement during the 1960s Ultimately Cofield Samuelson and Sexton squarely repudiate the assertion that the civil rights movement bypassed communities in northeastern North Carolina and prove instead that the movement drastically changed the lives of people in towns like Enfield forever

Play Lisa Murphy, 2015-03-16 Playing is vital to the social physical cognitive and spiritual development of young children Yet cries for more academic preschools and demands for higher test scores are forcing play out of many early childhood environments Play will show early childhood educators what they can do about it It explains how play promotes school readiness and is filled with anecdotes stories and true to life experiences Lisa Murphy has been involved with early childhood education for over twenty years teaching and working with children in various environments She is the founder and CEO of Ooey Goey Inc
