Chapter 4 Activity-Based Costing and Cost Management

ANSWERS TO QUESTIONS

1. Volume-based measures include drivers such as machine hours and direct labor hours which increase in proportion to increases in production volume. Non-volume drivers do not vary with production volume and include items such as number of batches or square footage of the facility.
2. In the traditional cost system, indirect costs are assigned on the basis of volume-based allocation measures such as direct labor hours or machine hours regardless of whether they are incurred relative to that volume-based measure.
3. Traditional costing systems tend to overcost high volume products and undercost low volume products that are often more complex to produce.
4. Activity Based Costing (ABC) assigns indirect costs to products and services based on the activities they require. Costs are assigned to various activity pools and then products are "charged" for the activities they consume. Traditional costing systems allocate overhead strictly on the basis of volume using cost drivers such as direct labor hours or machine hours.
