Collie,1977 Les Livres de L'année ,1927 Nineteenth-century French Poetry Michael Bishop,1993 Perhaps the most difficult task in undertaking a study of nineteenth century French poetry would be the selection of poets to study who among us would care to choose only one from among Mallarme Vigny Hugo and literally dozens of others who so thoroughly and powerfully interpreted shaped and challenged the art forever more Author Michael Bishop charged with that forbidding duty has concentrated his study on ten central figures of that century Desbordes Valmore Lamartine Vigny Baudelaire Hugo Mallarme Verlaine Rimbaud Laforgue and Lautreamont And while the list of subjects is compact Bishop s intense critical and personal analysis of these extraordinary giants is astounding Not only has he delved deeply into the complex structure of each of these ten poetic oeuvres but in so doing has introduced to the discussion a number of those poets seemingly excluded from the book Indeed his thoughts on Nerval Gautier and others are frequently as perspicacious and comprehensive as those put forth in works devoted solely to those poets In examining the clearest and most distinct voices of nineteenth century French poetry Bishop has shrewdly probed a tradition come to terms with modern criticisms imparted truly fresh details of coherence resulting from intimate and informed readings and joined hands across the ages all the while preserving and occasionally solidifying the exquisite individual integrity of particular oeuvres As he canvasses the charm and strength of Desbordes Valmore's unaltered passion Baudelaire's unsurpassed powers of versification the stunning descriptive narrative specificity of Hugo's lexicon or the interplay of fiction and reality in Mallarme Bishop constantly reflects the teeming fascinations and elan of the poets themselves BOOK JACKET Title Summary field provided by Blackwell North America Inc

Mr. Benamou has now collected these essays in one volume revising and expanding them and has added a general introduction. He discusses in turn Stevens' affinities with and differences from Baudelaire, Laforgue, Mallarme, Apollinaire, the Impressionists, and the Cubists.
