Meditations Marcus Aurelius,2006-04-27 Their icy blasts are refreshing and restorative They tell you the worst And having heard the worst you feel less bad Blake Morrison Written in Greek by the only Roman emperor who was also a philosopher without any intention of publication the Meditations of Marcus Aurelius offer a remarkable series of challenging spiritual reflections and exercises developed as the emperor struggled to understand himself and make sense of the universe While the Meditations were composed to provide personal consolation and encouragement Marcus Aurelius also created one of the greatest of all works of philosophy a timeless collection that has been consulted and admired by statesmen thinkers and readers throughout the centuries Translated with notes by MARTIN HAMMOND with an Introduction by DISKIN CLAY Meditations Marcus Aurelius,2009-02 Marcus Aurelius was Emperor of Rome from 121 to 180 Marcus Aurelius believed that human happiness arises in part from man's acceptance of his duties and responsibilities. He believed that one should accept calmly what cannot be avoided and perform one's duties as well as possible. From the introduction By the irony of fate this man so gentle and good so desirous of quiet joys and a mind free from care was set at the head of the Roman Empire when great dangers threatened from east and west. For several years he himself commanded his armies in chief. In camp before the Quadi he dates the first book of his Meditations and shows how he could retire within himself amid the coarse clangour of arms. The pomps and glories which he despised were all his what to most men is an ambition or a dream to him was a round of weary tasks which nothing but the stern sense of duty could carry him through. And he did his work well. His wars were slow and tedious but successful. With a statesman's wisdom he foresaw the danger to Rome of the barbarian hordes from the north and took measures to meet it. As it was his settlement gave two centuries of respite to the Roman Empire had he fulfilled the plan of pushing the imperial frontiers to the Elbe which seems to have been in his mind much more might have been accomplished. But death cut short his designs.

Marcus Aurelius,2021-01-11 A beautifully formatted easy to read version of a timeless classic The Meditations present the daily Stoic practice of Marcus Aurelius emperor of Rome from 161 to 180 AD Likely written during his years on various military campaigns across the empire they reflect his efforts to improve himself by fully assimilating the basic principles of Stoicism as put forth by Epictetus a Greek slave who became the greatest philosopher of his time To read the Meditations is to see how a practicing Stoic again and again will formulate for himself the central dogmas of Stoicism that everywhere and at all times it is in your power to accept your present condition reverently to behave justly to those around you and to exert your skill to control your thoughts that nothing shall steal into them without being well examined VII 54 The primary philosophical influence on Marcus Aurelius was Epictetus who set forth the basic principles and dogmas of Stoicism and advised practicing Stoics that these are the things that philosophers ought to study it is these that they should write about each day and it is in these that they should exercise themselves Discourses I 1 25 To read Marcus Aurelius s Meditations is to witness just such study and exercise We see the emperor formulating the same small set of principles rules and themes over and over again The basic

Stoic principle The only good is virtue or moral good VIII 1 The three rules disciplines of judgment action and desire Your present judgment founded on understanding and your present conduct directed to social good and your present disposition of contentment with everything which happens that is enough IX 6 The various dogmas or themes Tranquility is nothing else than the good ordering of the mind IV 3 Men do wrong because of their ignorance of what is good and evil II 1 All things happen according to the universal nature a man s wrongful act is nothing to you everything which happens always happened so and will happen so and now happens so everywhere the close kinship between you and the whole human race is not of a little blood or seed but of intelligence every man s intelligence is a god and is an efflux of the deity nothing is a man s own but that his child and his body and his very soul came from the deity everything is judgment opinion every man lives the present time only and loses only this a list of eight dogmas all from XII 26 Marcus did what his philosophical master Epictetus called for practicing Stoics to do He formulated and reformulated just these principles and themes and the result of this practice of writing is his Meditations Read and imitate his practice If you do you too might have these reflections at hand by night and day Write them down read them talk about them both to yourself and to somebody else Discourses III 24 103
