Macdonald,1993 Since 1979 Act 90 The Education and Training Act South Africa's law has stated that an official language i e English or Afrikaans could be used as the medium of instruction after Std 2 fourth grade in black education Almost without exception English was chosen by the primary schools This means that most children are introduced to the new subjects of history science and geography through the medium of English These subjects are encapsulated in textbooks that children find unusable and teachers have difficulty in understanding In 1990 the legislation was amended so that medium of instruction now becomes a matter of negotiation between the Minister of Education and the parents This negotiation is currently under way in many Department of Education and Training schools This change of legislation came as a direct result of research carried out over a period of five years on the Threshold Project 1985 1990 The overt cause of difficulties within the education system would have seemed to be a language policy that traumatises both teachers and pupils Inadequate time and materials are spent preparing children for a change in the medium of learning and the curriculum is not developed carefully enough to lead children to an understanding to a large number of abstract concepts by the fifth year of schooling
