

Psychology Assessment

Paper 1 Example (3 SAQs & 1 ERQ)

Answer all questions in this section. Marks will be awarded for focused answers supported by relevant knowledge and study.

1. Describe neuroplasticity, with reference to one study. [9 marks]

Neuroplasticity is the brain's ability to change in response to environmental demands. This occurs through neuronal unmasking and neural pruning. Neuronal unmasking is when the brain activates dormant neurons and strengthens them through practice, which increases neuronal density in the areas of the brain with recent patterns of activity. Long-term potentiation is the term used for the strengthening of neural networks through recent patterns of activity in specific regions of the brain that cause a long-lasting increase in signal transmission in those regions and this explains how the brain structure changes as a result of environmental demands. However, a lack of activity in neural networks leads to the weakening and the elimination of these networks which is known as neural pruning. Many studies have investigated neuroplasticity in action, namely Maguire et al. (2000) which investigated whether structural changes were evident in the brains of people with extensive experience in spatial navigation.

The study compared MRI scans of 16 right-handed male taxi drivers in London that have all been driving for at least 1.5 years to the MRI scans of 50 right-handed males from the London Hospital who were not taxi drivers. The mean age did not differ between the experimental group and the control group. They found that the taxi drivers had increased grey matter in the hippocampal areas as compared to the control group which suggests that the hippocampus plays a role in spatial navigation. Furthermore, they found that the taxi drivers had larger posterior hippocampi than the control group, whilst the control group had larger anterior hippocampus than the taxi drivers. This demonstrates long-term potentiation occurring in the taxi drivers' posterior hippocampi. Since, the taxi drivers use their spatial navigation skills frequently, the recent activity in the posterior hippocampus leads to the strengthening of the neural networks in that region which increases the neural density and is evident through the larger volume of the posterior hippocampus in the taxi drivers. Moreover, a positive correlation between the number of years driving and the volume of the posterior hippocampus was discovered, which creates a direct link between increased use of spatial navigation skills and the volume of that region. This further demonstrates the effects of long-term potentiation on brain structure and, therefore, the relationship between brain structure and environmental demands. They concluded that the structural changes were evident in the brains of the taxi drivers, with extensive experience in spatial navigation and the findings of this study act as evidence for neuroplasticity as the changes in the volume of the posterior hippocampus (a change in the structure of the brain) is shown to be impacted by the experience in spatial navigation (the environmental demand).

Feedback:

Excellent links made.

You described two specific parts of neuroplasticity, but not what it is in general.

Mindfulness in Internet and New Media

Wen-Ko Chiou, Chao Liu, Hao Chen, Shuhua Zhou, 2023-10-24 Mindfulness is about being aware in a certain way, being consciously aware on purpose, living in the present moment without mental judgment. In addition to the in-depth application of mindfulness in different subdisciplines of psychology, e.g., social, personality, clinical, developmental, health, organizational, there is also a trend toward cross-fertilization with other social and behavioral disciplines, e.g., design, kinesiology, sociology, family studies, education, anthropology, neuroscience, philosophy, economics, medicine, organizational science. However, the application of mindfulness in the field of communication is limited. With the rapid development of the Internet and new media, the study of Internet communication is growing rapidly. The Internet and new media make it easy to connect with others, explore a new world and regard cyberspace as an extension of one's own thoughts and personality. Nevertheless, when people use the Internet and new media mindlessly, they will easily experience the social effects on their virtual selves and encounter psychological problems, e.g., network morality, network anxiety, network pornography, network addiction and cyberbullying, which has become a widespread and serious problem. As an important part of positive psychology, mindfulness intervention has been proved to help improve a series of negative psychological states and promote positive emotions and subjective well-being. However, what theoretical and practical contributions can mindfulness in the Internet and new media bring remains unknown. Thus, this Research Topic focuses on the influence and intervention of mindfulness on the psychological problems caused by the network new media communication. We welcome high quality studies using a variety of research methods including quantitative, qualitative, mixed methods and reviews on the second generation of mindfulness interventions and other meditation based interventions, e.g., focused attention meditation, transcendental meditation and loving kindness meditation. This Research Topic encourages submissions that cover but are not limited to the following topics: 1 The internet and new media guided mindfulness and loving kindness meditation practice 2 Mindfulness and interpersonal communication in the network network trust network security network intimacy 3 Mindfulness and network clustering behavior 4 Mindfulness and online consumer psychology 5 Mindfulness and cyber moral psychology cyberbullying cyber altruism and prosocial behavior 6 Mindfulness and online pornography 7 Mindfulness and internet addiction 8 Mindfulness and online psychological counseling 9 Mindfulness and new media anxiety
