Kubde,2022-06-28 INTRODUCTION The reflection of Home science textbook to ancient days when special education on all aspects of life was given to girls for managing harmonious home and family life till formal education for girls in this direction was introduced by Madras mission school in 1915. The girls were educated on aspects like taking good care of children, supplying nutritious food to family, building health of family and managing their homes. This was the initiation of the concept of Home science through the education, but it was not formally named as home science. Efforts were made to make this education meaningful and suitable to the life of a girl who got married in her early teens. Later, in the early 90s, there was a boost of special education for girls called home science education. The stepping stone in this direction was the introduction of Home science subject in 1927 by an educational planner at the All India women's conference. The society recognised this education as a symbol of high status, and the parents were encouraged to send their daughters for home science education. This was further supported by the National Freedom Movement in the thirties and forties of the 19th century when equality of women was sought in all aspects of their expanded role in home and development of the nation. Even Sargent committee in 1944 highly acknowledged the importance of Home science as a subject in schools for girls.
