Decellularized Extracellular Matrix Tetsuji Yamaoka, Takashi Hoshiba, 2019-12-05 The extracellular matrix ECM supports cells and regulates various cellular functions in our body The native ECM promises to provide an excellent scaffold for regenerative medicine In order to use the ECM as a scaffold in medicine its cellular fractions need to be removed while retaining its structural and compositional properties This process is called decellularization and the resulting product is known as the decellularized extracellular matrix dECM This book focuses on the sources of dECM and its preparation characterization techniques fabrication and applications in regenerative medicine and biological studies Using this book the reader will gain a good foundation in the field of ECM decellularization complemented with a broad overview of dECM characterization ranging from structural observation and compositional assessment to immune responses against dECM and applications ranging from microfabrication and 3D printing to the application of tissue derived dECM in vascular grafts and corneal tissue engineering etc The book closes with a section dedicated to cultured cell dECM a complementary technique of tissue derived dECM preparation for application in tissue engineering and regenerative medicine addressing its use in stem cell differentiation and how it can help in the study of the tumor microenvironment as well as in clinical trials of peripheral nerve regeneration

Sport Diver ,1997-12 Epigenetic Regulation of Skin Development and Regeneration Vladimir A.

Botchkarev,Sarah E. Millar,2018-09-03 This indispensable volume highlights recent studies identifying epigenetic mechanisms as essential regulators of skin development stem cell activity and regeneration Chapters are contributed by leading experts and promote the skin as an accessible model system for studying mechanisms that control organ development and regeneration The timely discussions contained throughout are of broad relevance to other areas of biology and medicine and can help inform the development of novel therapeutics for skin disorders as well as new approaches to skin regeneration that target the epigenome Part of the highly successful Stem Cells and Regenerative Medicine series Epigenetic Regulation of Skin Development and Regeneration uncovers the fundamental significance of epigenetic mechanisms in skin development and regeneration and emphasizes the development of new therapies for a number of skin disorders such as pathological conditions of epidermal differentiation pigmentation and carcinogenesis At least six categories of researchers will find this book essential including stem cell developmental hair follicle or molecular biologists and gerontologists or clinical dermatologists

Sport Diver ,1997-07 Integrative Pharmacological Approaches for Regenerating Cartilage and Bone Tissue Jie Fang,Lufei Wang,Wen Liao,Yoshitomo Honda ,Yoshiya Hashimoto,2025-12-17 Destruction of cartilage and bone tissue in the craniomaxillofacial region can lead to temporomandibular joint disease occlusal disorders and tooth loss These conditions greatly impact essential physiological functions such as mouth opening chewing swallowing and pronunciation significantly reducing the patient s quality of life Such challenging clinical problem necessitates urgent resolution and causes considerable distress to affected individuals Researchers are earnestly exploring various approaches including integrative pharmacological strategies stem cell therapies and tissue engineering hoping to stimulate and facilitate cartilage and bone regeneration Despite substantial progress identifying the most effective and sustainable methods for promoting cartilage and bone repair remains a complex challenge within the fields of regenerative medicine The regeneration of cartilage is inherently curtailed by inadequate vascularization and limited availability of nutrients and immune cells. This hampers its self-repair capabilities in cases of damage or degradation, thus posing a significant challenge for individuals suffering from degenerative conditions such as cartilage injury or osteoarthritis. Despite bone tissue exhibiting robust metabolic activity, present approaches for addressing bone defects, including autologous and allogeneic bone transplantation, still exhibit certain deficiencies. The field of bone regeneration confronts several obstacles, such as the limited effectiveness of existing biomaterials, difficulty in achieving seamless integration with host tissue, inadequate vascularization, and slow healing processes. Additionally, personalized treatment approaches and handling complex bone defects remain concerning areas. In an attempt to overcome these challenges, researchers are investigating strategies involving the use of growth factors, stem cells, and bioactive molecules delivered through scaffolds or carriers to enhance tissue regeneration. Tissue engineering and 3D printing methodologies are being deployed to devise personalized implants and structures that facilitate the repair of cartilage and bone. This research topic aims to present the most recent studies in the field of cartilage and bone tissue regeneration, therefore providing a reference point for future clinical applications. In this Research Topic, we would like to include articles in the form of Original Research, Review, Opinion, Perspective, and Clinical Trial Case Report. We invite contributions that relate to but are not limited to the following topics: Pharmacological interventions facilitating the regeneration of cartilage or bone tissue; Genetic manipulation techniques promoting the regeneration of cartilage or bone tissue; Use of stem cells as a therapeutic tactic to stimulate the regeneration of cartilage or bone tissue; The application of tissue engineering techniques involving cells, scaffold materials, and other components to promote the regeneration of cartilage or bone tissue.
