McDonnell,M. Stephen Weatherford,2021-02-01 In Evidence Politics and Education Policy political scientists Lorraine M McDonnell and M Stephen Weatherford provide an original analysis of evidence use in education policymaking to help scholars and advocates shape policy more effectively The book shows how multiple types of evidence are combined as elected officials and their staffs work with researchers advocates policy entrepreneurs and intermediary organizations to develop create and implement education policies Evidence Politics and Education Policy offers an in depth understanding of the political environment in which evidence is solicited and used Two key case studies inform the book s findings The primary case a major multimethod study examines the development and early implementation of the Common Core State Standards at the national level and in four states California Indiana Massachusetts and Tennessee A comparative case analyzes the evidence used in Congressional hearings over the twenty year history of the Children's Health Insurance Program. Together the two cases illustrate the conditions under which different types of evidence are used and in particular how federalism, the complexity of the policy problem and the policy's maturity shape evidence use. McDonnell and Weatherford focus on three leverage points for strengthening the use of research evidence in education policy: integrating research findings with value based policy ideas, designing policies with incentives for research use built into their rules and organizational structures and training policy analysts to promote the use of research in policymaking venues.
