Formational Leadership Marcus K. Kilian, 2018-07-17 This book addresses the problem of toxic leadership in Christian contexts Toxic leadership behaviors of narcissistic and obsessive compulsive leaders will be emphasized To counteract toxic Christian leadership this book proposes a leadership development model called formational leadership which is based mostly on Wesleyan spirituality but also includes monastic and Pentecostal spiritualities Formational leadership is an eclectic leadership development model that includes components of transformational authentic and primal leadership approaches Formational leadership emphasizes the spiritual emotional and ethical development processes in the leader and includes an analysis of orthokardia orthodynamis and orthopraxis These components have a circular relationship with one another Orthokardia includes the concepts of spiritual and emotional maturity that a Christian leader needs to develop in order to become an ethical and effective leader Orthodynamis includes right power and influence motives based on Christian affections that should inform formational leadership Orthopraxis refers to right and just leadership behaviors informed by Wesley's social holiness and justice values that need to be adopted as organizational core values. The implications of these components for leadership development are outlined in chapters 4-6 that include practical steps for helping toxic leaders change their dysfunctional and harmful intentions and behaviors.

Wesleyan Leadership in Troubled Times David L. McKenna, 2002. Christians are to be in the world, not of the world. But worldly self-interest has crept into the church. The ultimate goals of filling empty pews, constructing bigger buildings, and ultimately gaining greater glory for the church itself are disguised by seemingly altruistic strategies like church planting and marketing the Gospel. Wesleyan Leadership in Troubled Times calls the church to be holy and whole in motive, mission, and ministry. McKenna challenges the church to confront our self-interested culture with the self-sacrificing love of Jesus Christ.

Productive Leadership Roy L. Spore, 2021-10-07. Productive Leadership is a celebration of the small churches of America and the lasting legacy they have provided for the Christian landscape. Combining attributes of proven leadership with stories from the New Testament, it provides a practical guide for developing and maintaining fruitful ministry and is written for lay and clergy leaders in these small to mid-size churches. Utilizing experiences from actual ministry situations, it uses both successes and failures to learn how to work together, taking the reader from assessing the cultural values of a church through discerning God's vision for ministry and working together in leadership. Complete with step-by-step exercises for individuals, councils, and committees, the various chapters form a map for developing effective ministry in what often seems to be a futile mission field. Readers are invited to examine leadership qualities by identifying their own characteristics and competencies and how they are best used in working within the ministry of their local church. Well-suited for individual readers, it is also a valuable resource for church councils to discover how they can best work together toward the fulfillment of their mission, making the most productive use of their time and resources. Anyone interested in the future ministry of small churches will find this book to be a valuable resource.

Leadership and Governance in Nigeria, 2002. The 19 Carolyn C. Moore, 2018-04-19. Wesley's historic questions have been asked of those considered for full connection ordination since as early as 1784, the first Conference of the Methodist Episcopal Church presided over by Francis Asbury and Thomas Coke. The questions also have a broader Wesleyan context. Many of these questions were originally used with the people Wesley called Helpers, lay men and women to whom Wesley gave responsibility for leadership in the Methodist societies. They were class leaders, stewards, local preachers, and travelling preachers. The questions addressed topics Wesley believed to be essential for persons responsible for leading others in discipleship and mission in the world. The nineteen questions cover topics from faith in Christ to spiritual practices to debt. The questions around commitment to the rules of the Church have a contemporary urgency in this season of division.

Building from her blog on the 19 Questions, Are You Going On To Perfection at www.artofholiness.com, Carolyn will thoughtfully unpack each question in a historical and personal way.

Five Means of Grace: Leader Guide Elaine A. Heath, 2017-09-19 John Wesley gave the Methodist movement and all Christians in general a discipleship pathway to follow Wesley began with Three Simple Rules or General Rules and followed this instruction a year later with the Five Marks of a Methodist or Character of a Methodist Wesley observed the need for continuous renewal of relationships with God and others so he established a recurring annual process for God's people to make One Faithful Promise The Wesleyan Covenant for Renewal The study by Heath turns to the practices at the center of Wesley's understanding of spiritual growth the means of grace This book study guides readers through the five means of grace that John Wesley called instituted meaning these are spiritual practices in which Jesus himself participated and which he encouraged his followers to do One of the beautiful aspects of Wesley's theology is that spiritual practices are seamlessly integrated with practices of loving our neighbors well This is why Wesley said there is no holiness but social holiness A life of genuine prayer inevitably leads to a life of hospitality mercy and justice Through this book study participants will consider how each of the five means of grace help us as communities of faith to pray more deeply and live more missionally as followers of Jesus Christ These means are the ordinary channels that God uses to draw us into a fruitful relationship These five means or channels are 1 Prayer 2 Searching Scripture 3 Receiving the Lord's Supper 4 Fasting 5 Conferencing communion fellowship
