Psychology: First Canadian Edition Study Guide Richard O. Straub, 2006-09-15 Following the text's content Richard Straub offers a Chapter Overview and Chapter Review which is divided by major section. Each group of fill in the blank and short answer questions is preceded by the relevant objective from the text. The Study Guide also includes three self tests one of which encourages students to think critically about the chapter's concepts answers with page references for the self tests and explanations of why a choice is correct or incorrect and a Focus on Language and Vocabulary section which explains idioms and other phrases used by David Myers in the text that may not be clear to some readers Study Guide for Psychology, Seventh Edition Richard O. Straub, David G. Myers, 2003-06-20 This new edition continues the story of psychology with added research and enhanced content from the most dynamic areas of the field: cognition, gender and diversity studies, neuroscience and more while at the same time using the most effective teaching approaches and learning tools Education for Educators Kai Kafferly, Using Discussion to Promote Reading Comprehension Donna E. Alvermann, Deborah R. Dillon, David G. O'Brien, 1987 Drawing from observations of discussion in 24 different classrooms this book will provide preservice and inservice teachers at the middle and school levels with the motivation and knowledge to use discussion to foster student comprehension of content area text assignments. The first chapter examines the distinctions between discussion and recitation and redefines major issues related to content area discussion in light of recent research and school reform reports. The second chapter establishes a basis for the premise that discussion is important to the development of reading comprehension illustrating those skills that enrich or refine students' understanding of text. The third chapter uses portions of transcripts from videotaped content class discussions to illustrate how classroom context influences discussion practices. Alternatives to teacher dominated discussions are described and guidelines are provided for establishing the rights and responsibilities of critical readers. The fourth chapter demonstrates how to plan for classroom discussion of assigned material describing five aspects of the planning process. The fifth chapter presents discussion strategies that help students master the content examine more than one side of the issue and evaluate alternative solutions to a text based problem while the sixth chapter analyzes one content area teacher's implementation of a preplanned discussion. Finally the seventh chapter describes two procedures for informally evaluating classroom discussion used to promote reading comprehension. References follow each chapter.
