

Texas Anti-Abortion Center Funding

When someone is making a decision about continuing or ending a pregnancy, they should be able to get accurate information about all their options so they can decide what is best for themselves. Anti-abortion centers (AACs) do not support pregnant people and families. Instead, they serve as a barrier to parental support and legitimate health care, including abortion access.

Texas is one of many states that funds AACs with taxpayer dollars. Equity Forward estimates that since 1995, states have allocated a combined total of more than $1.13 billion in tax dollars to AACs through state-run Alternative to Abortion programs or via other funding streams. In several places, millions of federal Temporary Assistance for Needy Families (TANF) dollars, which are meant to support families working to make ends meet, instead get diverted to AACs. Texas has historically used TANF block grants to fund AACs.

Period of Funding: FY 2006 - Present

Current Funding: $140,000,000

Total for the 2023-2025 Fiscal Biennium

Estimated Funding Over Time: $438,098,791

[Equity Forward A2A + AAC State Funding Database, updated 2/20/25]

Funding Propaganda:

Anti-abortion centers often spend more on overhead and propaganda than they do on support.

In FY 2023, Texas AAC contractor, Human Coalition's budget allocated more than $5 million to salaries and marketing but only a sliver to diapers, formula, and other material goods.

[Public Records, obtained by Equity Forward, 2/17/23]

Supporting Deceptive Practices:

Anti-abortion centers exist in order to delay or deter pregnant people from getting abortion care.

AACs that receive state funds, such as Houston Pregnancy Help Center, promote "abortion pill reversal," an unsafe treatment not supported by medical evidence.

[Free Pregnancy Test, accessed 4/21/23]

Anti-Abortion Centers Do Not Address The Maternal Care Crisis:

Anti-abortion centers don't contribute to ameliorating health inequities.

Nationwide, Texas has the 13th-highest maternal mortality rate and the 29th-highest infant mortality rate.

Of all Texas counties, 49.21% are considered maternity care deserts.

[Kaiser Family Foundation, accessed 2/24/25]

[Centers for Disease Control and Prevention, accessed 2/24/25]

[Deloitte, accessed 2/24/25]

Take Action — End Tax Dollars From Flowing to Anti-Abortion Centers

Funding AACs siphons money away from low-income individuals and those in need of quality health care, and instead places it in the hands of organizations that spread biased, false, and harmful information – and have been left unchecked for far too long.

Reallocation:

Tax dollars should go to programs that provide the support parents and pregnant people need.

Instead of funneling money to programs that spend more on propaganda than services, states can fund people getting health care, accurate information, and access to all of their options, including abortion, adoption, and meaningful support for parents to raise children once they are born.

Regulation:

States must engage in greater scrutiny, investigation, and regulation of AACs, especially those that rely on taxpayer dollars. AACs should not be allowed to engage in unscrupulous tactics and should be required to be transparent about their use of funds and operations.

 info@equityfwd.org

 EquityFwd.org

 Equity Forward

 @EquityForward

 @EquityForward

Texas Organizations To Support:

Take action by supporting these organizations that ensure comprehensive reproductive health care access or work to hold anti-abortion centers accountable.

- Fund Texas Choice
- Texas Equal Access \(TEA\) Fund
- Lilith Fund
- Avow